Market, Orientation, Dialogue: POWX Solid Dialogue Moscow

- New event format
- POWX Solid Dialogue Moscow, 12 May 2016, Moscow City
- International Symposium: Technology for Powder and Bulk Solids

Moscow, 29 February 2016

Following the international trade show for the powder and bulk solids industry in Russia POWX2014 the organizer now draws the industry's attention to a successive event.

„POWX Solid Dialogue Moscow“ is the name of this international symposium, which takes place in the Russian capital on 12 May 2016.

Exclusively experienced professionals from Russia and abroad are expected by the organizer OWP-Rus, by the POWX experts' council and by the event partners, to attend this symposium.

Mostly technical and solution-oriented topics will be discussed on the occasion of this special industry meeting. Numerous applications focusing at the key aspects of the Russian industry, e.g. agriculture, construction, chemistry and food, will be handled.

The event's format is new: the effective framework, the interactive involvement, the solid dialogue.

The participants of POWX Solid Dialogue Moscow always stay in the very center. And exactly there, the event will take place: in the center of this metropolis – directly in Moscow City.

On the one hand, this symposium puts its emphasis on Russian and international producers of high-end technology for the efficient processing of powder and bulk solids.

On the other hand, the huge market potential is in focus: this new event format addresses the wide range of industrial applications in Russia and the CIS countries in an unparalleled efficient way.

You find further information about this symposium on the POWX website under www.powx-russia.com.
